

Leadership Circles

Where leaders tackle critical issues shaping the energy transition

Leadership Circles were established in response to Partner requests for small, peer-to-peer dialogues. Summits and Forums convene senior executives in carefully curated, peer-to-peer discussions on the industry's most pressing energy challenges.

- Duration: 90 minutes
- Participants: 25 senior executives, moderated by an S&P Global expert
- Format: Welcome remarks by the moderator followed open dialogue amongst participants (participants will receive an agenda or pre-read in advance); Moderator will give concluding remarks.

Partners receive priority consideration for participation in Leadership Circles. Partner Programs are not listed on the public agenda and are invitation-only. No formal speaking roles. Chatham House Rule. Media is not allowed.

Summits	Regional Forums	Topical Forums	Functional Forums
 Standing communities that meet annually to address shared priorities, exchange insights, and strengthen strategic relationships.	 Facilitated discussions on region-specific challenges and opportunities, bringing together leaders to share local perspectives and energy priorities.	 Focus on the most critical and emerging topics shaping the energy industry today, enabling informed discussion and forward-looking perspectives.	 Bring together professionals from specific operational areas to promote a deeper understanding of their unique needs.
