CERA WEEK 2027

Setting the Energy Agenda for the World

The Converging Landscape of Energy, AI, and Infrastructure

As we look to 2027, the global landscape is experiencing a profound structural convergence: the parallel acceleration of the global energy expansion and the explosive rise of the artificial intelligence economy. AI has become a primary driver of energy consumption and to the broader business and policy environment.

While AI holds the potential to redefine the global marketplace, its advancement depends on a collaborative journey between governments, investors, and industry to install the hardware and physical infrastructure required to power it.

The active participation of leading semiconductor manufacturers, hyperscalers, developers, and other value chain participants at CERAWeek 2026 highlighted how the digital landscape and physical resources must evolve together. This cross-sector convergence proved that CERAWeek continues to be the primary platform where the most critical conversations take place and where the essential connections are forged.

To support this integration and deliver greater strategic value, CERAWeek 2027 Partnership introduces key enhancements designed to offer greater connectivity, visibility, and impact:

Expanding the Agora Conversation

Reflecting the deep integration of energy, technology, and AI, we are extending the opportunity for CERAWeek Partners to participate and contribute to the Innovation Agora. Partners may choose to send their leaders focused on this critical intersection to share insights, collaborate with emerging startups, and help shape the technology agenda.

Senior Executive Dinners

We are expanding our Partner Programs to facilitate deeper, peer-to-peer engagement. Recognizing the vital importance of networking and continuing the conversation, we are introducing dinners for our Partner Program participants. These will be organized around key themes—such as AI, risk, geopolitics, carbon management, supply chains, power, oil and gas, and mining—or held with distinguished officials. Opportunities to host these events are available for select Partners.

Amplified Global Visibility

Carry your organization's voice far beyond the walls of the conference. We are broadening opportunities to highlight your key executives and strategic messages through new media collaborations with premier global publications—including a continuation of the opportunity with POLITICO.

CERAWeek is where the future of the energy landscape is negotiated, designed, and advanced. We invite you to join us as a Partner at the center of the conversation.

CERAWEEK PARTNERSHIP

Partnership Levels

Foundational

Foundational Partners benefit from the highest levels of access, visibility and executive support. These Partners play a leadership role within the CERAWeek community and are provided premier engagement and contribution opportunities. Foundational Partners may play leadership roles as co-hosts of special events, offering targeted engagement to specific communities within the CERAWeek Professional Development Programs (such as NextGen, Future Energy Leaders, and Women in Energy).

Foundational Partnership is reserved for a limited number of qualified Partners acknowledged as industry leaders in their field and who have designated CERAWeek as a priority executive engagement platform.

Strategic

Strategic Partnership supports active engagement and access across a wide range of the CERAWeek community to align with specific Partner objectives. As with the Foundational Partnerships, a dedicated CERAWeek team takes a consultative approach to plan and curate participation across each facet of the community, identifying opportunities for Partner executives to maximize their personal and organizational impact.

Strategic Partners receive priority consideration to contribute content and access to CERAWeek Partner communities. Partners are asked to commit senior-level engagement, thought leadership contributions and participation in the relevant Partner communities.

Industry

Intended for smaller delegations, Industry Partnership provides enhanced executive participation, brand recognition, access to shared meeting space, limited access to CERAWeek Partner Programs, branding and support.

“The opportunity to cross paths with people from all sectors of the energy business, the energy policy world, the energy research world, is really a unique experience.”

Dr. Ernest Moniz

Founder & Chief Executive Office, Energy Futures Initiative, former U.S. Secretary of Energy

The PLM assists in planning and navigating the scale and complexity of CERAWeek. PLMs are professional project managers who will strategically direct your experience. They serve as a central point of contact and facilitate access to the broader CERAWeek planning team, while remaining focused on your objectives.

Press Access and Social Media Engagement

CERAWeek Partners receive exclusive access to services designed to enhance their media and communications strategy before, during, and after the event. This includes early access to the registered media list (with contact details), opportunities to distribute briefing materials in the press room, and the ability to reserve the media briefing areas for announcements or interviews.

Additionally, the CERAWeek social media team collaborates with Partners to develop strategies for maximizing digital engagement and amplifying key messages across platforms.

CERAWEEK PARTNERSHIP

Media & Partnership Support

CERAWeek serves as an unparalleled global platform for our Partners, extending their voice beyond the physical venue. Rather than keeping insights contained within the conference walls, the CERAWeek media program acts as a powerful strategic vehicle to project your corporate vision, milestone announcements, and strategic perspectives directly to global capital markets, regulatory bodies, and industrial leaders worldwide.

With extensive coverage from over 450 reporters representing more than 100 media outlets, CERAWeek is one of the most widely covered executive gatherings in the world. This concentration of media coverage provides an exceptional avenue for formal and informal press interactions, ensuring your organization's message resonates globally. “This is my first time to CERAWeek, and frankly, I never imagined I would be here. It's a clear sign, with my presence here today and the great dialogue, that energy and AI chip design are intertwined. [AI adoption] can lead to definition of new energy sources and make legacy energy sources of production become more efficient going forward.”

CTO & EVP, AMD
