

Peer Practices Database

The Peer Practices Database (PPD) puts thousands of real industry examples and CSA expected practices at your fingertips. Company examples are sourced from peer companies in all industries and cover majority of the questions included in the S&P Global Corporate Sustainability Assessment (CSA).

Three Types of Analysis at Your Fingertips

- Company examples refer to real publicly disclosed peer practices that fulfill at least some of the CSA expectations. This is limited by the availability of public examples. Please note that no confidential information provided by companies to S&P Global will be disclosed. The database will be updated throughout the year with new peer practice examples.
- Hypothetical examples are provided on selected questions where no public examples can be found. In such cases S&P Global will provide a hypothetical example, not linking to any publicly available company case.
- Quantitative analysis will inform you about the conditions required in a certain CSA question to score 90 or above, and the percentage of companies in your industry meeting those conditions in a given score release date and assessment year. This analysis is provided on a global level.

Easy Online Access

The database can be accessed after log-in to the online CSA portal. Register or log in to your company’s account and navigate to: <https://portal.s1.spglobal.com/survey/ui/>.
